What is Diabetic Retinopathy?

Diabetic retinopathy occurs when elevated sugar (glucose) levels in your blood cause the blood vessels in the eye to swell and leak fluid into the retina. New blood vessels may also grow causing further damage.

See your eye doctor immediately, if you have any of the following diabetic retinopathy symptoms:

- Dark spots in your visual field
- Blurred, distorted or double vision
- Large “Floaters” (dots, circles, cobwebs that move across your field of vision)
